

Freddie Mac Announces Intent to Sell Seventh STACR Offering of 2016

September 15, 2016

MCLEAN, VA--(Marketwired - Sep 15, 2016) - Freddie Mac (OTCQB: FMCC) announces its intent to sell its seventh offering this year of Structured Agency Credit Risk (STACR®) debt notes, pending market conditions. Through the award-winning and innovative STACR program, Freddie Mac transfers a significant portion of the mortgage credit risk on certain single-family loans to private capital market investors.

STACR 2016-DNA4 has a reference pool of single-family mortgages with an unpaid principal balance of more than $24.8 billion, consisting of a subset of 30-year fixed-rate single-family mortgages recently acquired by Freddie Mac. Freddie Mac holds the senior loss risk in the capital structure and a portion of the risk in the Class M-1, M-2 and M-3 tranches, and the first loss Class B tranche.

J.P. Morgan and Wells Fargo Securities will serve as co-lead managers and joint bookrunners.

Freddie Mac has led the market in introducing new credit risk-sharing initiatives with STACR, Agency Credit Insurance Structure (ACIS®) and Whole Loan Securities (WLSSM), and was the first agency to market these types of credit risk transfer transactions. The company has since grown its investor base to more than 200 unique investors, including insurers and reinsurers. Since 2013, the company has transferred a significant portion of credit risk on nearly $545 billion of UPB on single-family mortgages.
