

Freddie Mac Announces First STACR Offering of 2015 and Program Enhancements to Further Reduce Credit Risk

January 21, 2015

MCLEAN, VA--(Marketwired - Jan 20, 2015) - Freddie Mac (OTCQB: FMCC) today announced its first Structured Agency Credit Risk (STACR®) debt notes offering for 2015 of $775 million, pending market conditions. This new offering includes program enhancements such as transferring a portion of the first loss STACR credit risk tranche to the private capital markets. The enhancements reduce credit risk, as well as promote program liquidity and provide diverse investment options for investors.

STACR Program 2015 Enhancements:

- Issuing 100 basis points of first loss.
- Rating the M-3 bonds for the first time. Only Class M-1 and M-2 bonds were rated in previous transactions.
- Planning for six to eight STACR issuances this year, depending on market conditions.
- Achieving a milestone, with settlement of STACR 2015-DN1, of reducing a portion of credit risk on one million Single-Family loans since the program's inception.

"Freddie Mac is shifting its credit risk business strategy from a buy and hold company to a buy and sell company so it is natural that we would further reduce our credit risk exposure by selling the first loss piece," said Mike Reynolds, Freddie Mac vice president of Credit Risk Transfer. "We have heard from numerous investors who have an appetite for more risk and higher yields like those found in the first loss piece."

J.P. Morgan and Citigroup will serve as co-lead managers and joint bookrunners for STACR Series 2015-DN1, which has a reference pool of recently-originated Single-Family mortgages with an unpaid principal balance of more than $27.6 billion.

Freddie Mac holds the senior loss risk in the reference pool, and a portion of the risk in the Class M-1, M-2, M-3 and the first loss Class B tranche.
